IOC ADOPTS PENAL COURT SYSTEM

ADDRESS STUDENTS—Elder Bruce McConkie, member of the First Council of Seventy, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, advised Brigham Young University students to prepare the foundations for celestial marriage by upholding the standards of the Church. (Photo by Lynn G. Hale)

Church Official Advises Group To Enter Temple Marriages

BRUCE R McConkie minister of the First Council of the Seventy Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints told Brigham Young University students that they should be married by the right person with the right authority in the right place

In his devotional address Tuesday he added that Latter-day Saints have a concept that is bold true and dynamic—that temple marriage performed by authority of the priesthood is an eternal union

'Our concept of marriage is so far above marriage philosophies that there is no comparison," he declared

THE CHURCH official said that the scriptures reveal that persons can reach the celestial kingdom, God's kingdom thru celestial marriage

'I have talked to prospective college students throughout the United States," he said and I urge them to enter Brigham Young University The chief benefit of coming to Brigham Young University is to lay the foundation of celestial marriage

IT IS NOT enough however that students be members of the church in name only, students should marry persons who love the Lord and keep the standards of righteousness that the gospel entails

Elder McConkie said that the Latter day concept of continuation of the family unit in the hereafter parallels the Biblical story of Ruth and Naomi

Write-in Candidate Protests Methods

Diane Hatch Idaho Falls Ida has announced his candidacy for freshman class secretary on a write in ticket in protest of the present method of campus electioneering

She declared that campaigning merely by paragraph and posters is a farce and added that she intends to make her qualification known to freshman voters

'A vote for me will be a manifestation of dissatisfaction with the present election system and if elected I intend to do something about it" she said

Legislators To Discuss Footballing

LEGISLATIVE Council Wednesday night will be told of needed revisions in the student-body constitution and will be asked to draw up a definite resolution regarding the Brigham Young University football "situation," according to Dallas Merrell, agenda committee chairman

Meeting is scheduled for the conference room, Student Service Center basement, at 7 p m Any student may sit in on the meeting

MERRELL SAID the constitution committee has drawn up a tentative plan for thorough revision of the constitution . He said changes had been recommended in nearly every section

He said the football "situation' is being brought before the council now so that a resolution will be ready if it is requested by the administration

MERRELL PLANS to ask the council either to begin enforcing some of the statutes that have been frequently violated or to drop them from the constitution Main problem in question this week is the statute forbidding organizations to schedule activities conflicting with studentbody affairs without special permission

Merrell said that activities held without permission conflicted with last Saturday's class picnics

Also scheduled to come before the council are a report from Ted Mitchell Phoenix Ariz in study advisability and procedure of BYU's joining the National Student Association

Legislators will be asked to consider Honor Council's appointment of new members and to elect a junior class Legislative Council representative to replace Robin Bown, who has resigned on a doctor's advice

THE OFFICIAL weather report forecasts continued cold and scattered snow showers for the Provo area Monday night's temperature was recorded at 1 degree above zero at the Provo airport The Salt Lake City airport reported that this was the coldest night on record for this early in the season

THE SNOW storm has made it necessary for the University to increase its manpower to operate the additional equipment Students are on stand-by for emergency duty in helping to keep the roads clear according to Leland Perry, Physical Plant director

The storm was reported to have come down from Canada Several other storms are expected

Tausig Unit To Escape Prosecution

CHARGES against the Tausig social unit were dismissed Monday night at the Inter-Organizational Council meeting when Karl Snow, IOC president stated that IOC has no right to try cases of rule infractions

Acting on the advice of legal counsel, the IOC officers drafted the Penal Court as provided by the IOC constitution, and presented the names of those selected to serve on the court for approval of the council

RAY ARNOLD, Ron Daly, Dennis Olson Gordon Wells and Gerald Kindred were appointed judges with Boyd Donahue, Monroe McKay and Wes Craig to act as alternate judges

Virgil Anderson was appointed prosecuting attorney, and Jack Gelta was selected bailiff

The Penal Court will serve until the constitution has been revised and printed and a new system to deal with IOC violations is approved

SNOW SAID that the Tausig unit would not be prosecuted because the IOC constitution provides that a Penal Court try violations and the legal period for trying a violation would have expired before the case could be readied for trial

The IOC body was advised that at most they could censure Tausigs for their violation and the matter was dismissed when nobody moved that the Tausigs be censured

A recommendation of the Inter Social Unit Council that inviting non members to any unit functions not be considered predetermining membership was passed by the IOC body

HOWEVER, a stipulation by Snow and Dr Henry L Isaksen student coordinator that the function should not be held expressly for the purpose of rushing was added to the original motion of the ISU presidents

Religion Prof Spends Summer As 'Gentile' in Jewish School

by Mary Helen Bunnell

FOR SIX WEEKS last summer, Ellis T Rasmussen professor in the Department of Religion, was a "Gentile" He acquired this standing by his enrollment in Dropsie College, Philadelphia, Pa Dropsie College is a Jewish graduate institution in which Prof Rasmussen was the only non-believer of the Jewish faith

He recently gave a report at the Department of Religion faculty meeting in which he related some of his experiences

RASMUSSEN reported that, although a "rare specimen," he was afforded extremely genial and cooperative treatment by the administration, teachers, and fellow students The teachers even took time out to explain jokes told in class

Fellow students were eager to hear his viewpoints on Latter-day Saint theology and organization He was invited to participate in ceremonies performed at the synagogue

AS A RESULT of the experience, Prof Rasmussen said that his appreciation for Jewish people and their scholarship has been greatly enhanced

He recommended that the LDS Church as a whole inform itself of the principles of Jewish doctrine He said that LDS people should determine how the two sects are similar and how they are different After this has been done, they need to anticipate the teaching of the gospel to Jewish people when they show a willingness to learn it

Professor Rasmussen attended Dropsie College to study the Hebrew language and teaching of the Old Testament as a requirement towards the completion of his doctorate

Mother Nature An Aid?

Could it be that the snows that prevail in Cougarville wi a happy omen for the BYU eleven come Saturday s tiff league-leading Colorado A&M? We believe so

The Cougars trounced Los Angeles State, 33 0, in a sea mud at Provo, and held potent Wyoming to 14-6 in a bitterly wind at Laramie It seems as though the Cats play their best w the weather is at its worst Let's hope this holds true Saturda

Regardless of the weather, we hope that our studentbody of some 8,000 in number will temporarily forget the sordid past and turn out en masse for the home finale against A&M Saturday.

Having seen the Coloags in action, I believe that our l will, as a matter of pride, rise to the occasion and scare the c lights out of the Rams, if not upset them However, no foot team will rise to any citadel unless they are aware of stuc support

Let's forget all past grievances, for this game at least show the fellows who have borne the brunt of taunts and ins all season that we as the studentbody of Brigham Young Uni sity are behind our club all the way Let's see no more of disgraceful 3,550 turnout and performance that was evidence the Idaho game.

The Coloags are currently in first place in the Skyline Conference; the Cougars occupy the cellar. What better chance for an upset? However, let us not delude ourselves into thinking the Rams will be easy. The boys from Fort Collins sniff that championship laurel too close to come over to Provo overconfident. It should be a terrific game any way you look at it.

But, regardless of past performances, the team needs to ki that we are behind them The rest is up to you, students this game, anyway.

Game, Refreshment Suggestions Offered for 'After Ball' Parties

by Margaret Hunter
Universe Society Writer

Girls who plan to entertain their dates in the dorms after the Preference Ball can use the limited time to good advantage by getting food and games ready beforehand

If planning for a light snack, a girl might serve only popcorn, doughnuts and cider, a root beer float a sundae, or a frape Fruit salad, punch, and biscuits make up a light, but more filling meal

Buffet style service makes it possible to use even a greater variety of food Potato salad, slices of cold meat, and pieces of cheese can be served together Good old-fashioned sandwiches of roast pork, ham, roast beef, tuna fish, or lunch meat will conquer any large appetite

Groups wishing something new might try miniature hamburgers These are made about the size of silver dollars, dipped in barbecue sauce, and served on bread cut to size

A Thanksgiving theme can be added to the party by serving baked apples, cranberry salad, or pumpkin pie

Whichever foods are chosen and prepared b
hey should be easy to fix, easy to handle in dress clothes, and prepared before the dance

Games such as "picture drawing" can be played at the gathering One person in the group describes a painting to the rest Each one draws it as it is described It's fun to see the different pictures that come from one simple description

"Land, Air, and Sea" is played by having the leader point to someone and say either of these three words This person has to immediately name an article that is in or inhabits that particular place As nothing can be renamed, after a while, great confusion sets in

"Charades" will also provide entertainment and help make a successful party

Winter Sports (Snow Fights) Start Season

by Deanna Barnum
Universe Society Writer

Oh the snow! The cool, crisp, ride As you sit back in the sleigh, Jack Frost is biting your nose and your toes and fingers begin to tingle But the sleigh bells are ringing and you are having such a good time you hardly notice the cold

You have missed half your life if you haven't reclined in a snow bank and swished your arms and feet to make an angel in the snow, or if you haven't played the simple game of fox and geese.

Would you like to feel the cool spray of snow in your face as you are whizzing down a hill on a toboggan or feel the thrill of a conquering hero as you speed down a mountain on skis? How about the old figure eight you cut with ice skates? Even a little hand sleigh on a steep hill is fun

Don your wool scarf, hat and gloves, or maybe you go for the modern parka and ski suit Nevertheless, dress warmly Fill your lungs with good fresh air and get set to play in the snow inviting snow Mr Weather Man has been very kind to send us this blessed white stuff so early in the season

It is especially welcome on the campus as it makes sliding from the North Building to the lower campus so much more interesting

Baseball coach Dave Crowton was happy to see the old right arm limbered up Snow balls are a good substitute for base balls

AFROTC Prepares for Drive To Collect 250 Pints of Blood

AIMING FOR a quota of 250 pints of blood, the Brigham Young University ROTC unit will begin seeking student pledges Nov 21, 22, and 23 to donate blood to the American Red Cross Bloodmobile that will be on campus Nov 29 and 30

According to Sponsor Donna Mendenhall and Cadet Dick Bell, co-chairmen of the blood drive, booths will be open in the lobbies of the Eyring Science Center and Smith Building beginning at 8 a.m. on Nov 21 A member of the Arnold Air Society or Sponsor Corps will be at each booth to answer any questions donors may have concerning the blood drive

ACCORDING TO Dr Kenneth R. Nelson, Medical Director of the Intermountain Regional Blood Center, and Elmer Simms, Utah County Shapter manager of the American Red Cross, any person between the ages of 18 and 60 may donate, however, students between 18 and 21 who are single must bring consent from their parents or their guardian. Dr Nelson emphasized that, contrary to the belief of many, there are no weight restrictions on blood donors

In answer to past questions concerning diseases Dr Nelson stated that anyone having jaundice of virus origin may donate for fractionation purposes provided the disease had not been present in the two year period immediately previous Blood to be used for fractionation separating basic elements is just as important as whole blood for transfusion purposes, Dr. Nelson said

THOSE WOULD-BE donors with a history of malaria are acceptable for transfusion service provided no symptoms have appeared during the last two years Those donors with a history of malaria with symptoms occuring during the previous two year period but not during the immediate six months period are acceptable for fractionation purposes.

Dr Nelson and Simms emphasized that their are no restrictions on diet before or after donating blood All who are interested in donating blood are encouraged to come to the bloodmobile and consult the doctor on any problems they may have

Dr. Nelson stated that the 250 pints of blood donated on this campus and those of others are to go to blook banks of Veterans and military hospitals of Utah

Plans Submitted for Separation Of IOC to Self-Governing Bodies

by Walt Horban — Universe Staff Writer

RECOMMENDATIONS for a complete revision of Inter-Organizational Council, including disbanding the general assembly, have been proposed by a committee drawing up an honor system court plan.

Jack Jones, Payson, and Ken Kenney Salt Lake City, committee co chairmen, proposed a plan for separating the five divisions within IOC into self-governing bodies

THIS PROPOSAL calls for strengthening a separation proposal already embodied in the IOC constitution At present each group may determine policy for its own organizations, but changes in the documented IOC rules must be approved by IOC officers

The new plan would allow social units, geographicals departmentals, religious organizations and musicals to draw up their own codes and to set up their own courts to deal with violations within the group

EACH OF the groups would elect representatives to attend IOC meetings, elminating the need for all unit presidents to attend IOC would become a coordinating body to supervise functions of interest to more than one IOC group

The committee pointed out that at present representatives are forced to deal with personal problems of completely unconnected organizations, which makes the assembly an unwieldy group

THE NEW SYSTEM, they said, could be compared to the cabinet of the United States President For example, one class of organizations should not tell another what it is to do any more than should the Secretary of Defense sit in judgment on the Secretary of Agriculture

They felt that social units in particular would have less difficulty with rule violations if they were allowed to draw up their own rules and be put on their honor to abide by them They said a court composed of social unit members would probably deal more effectively with violators than the Penal Court as now outlined
